BUSINESS AND ANTICIPATED BUSINESS PLAN

7. Describe in detail the business of the issuer and the anticipated business plan of the issuer.

Our Business

We will be the only recirculating hydroponic hop farm in the United States. Offering local craft breweries, a way to guarantee that their beer is new, exciting and different in an industry that's beginning to show more of the same. Twin Bays Hop Farms will boast upwards of 70 different varieties of hops which enables the brewers to make more unique and exciting beer than ever before.

One of the integral parts of our business model is our ability to be flexible with planted varieties. Meaning, that if a certain species had a difficult year in its longitude of origin. We are able to directly capitalize on those shortages by planting those species using our nutrient recirculating method. Traditional hop farms produce a crop yield once every year. At Twin Bays Hop Farms we're able to produce a crop every (3) months consistently. This means bigger growth, forward expansion and the ability to spin up new greenhouses as demand increases to keep up with the ever-growing craft beer scene.

We believe that the benefits of our hydroponic system include:

- Faster turnaround time on growth;
- Higher Alpha Acid levels;
- Flexible planting systems to maximize potential consumer outreach.

We believe our business is currently characterized by the following:

- Market: Florida’s craft beer market is exploding, and the sunshine state is producing and distributing more craft beer than ever. As production and distribution rates rise so will the demand for Fresh Florida Hops. By utilizing our product, breweries gain a key marketing feature that was previously unavailable to them. They’re now able to utilize the “Fresh from Florida” seal on all of their package items. Not only does this provide marketing incentive for their potential customers, it helps them with key placement in key big box retailers such as Publix.
- Fresh Florida Hops for the market: our products will be the best of what Florida can offer in sustainable hydroponic farming abilities. We will constantly deliver to our customer bine fresh, pest and disease-free hops year-round.
- Focused management team: our experienced management team is dedicated solely to our operation and to implement our business strategies. Each member of the executive team has been involved with the Company since its formation and has been instrumental in developing our strategy. Additionally, we’ve acquired expert growers and PHD level horticultural specialists are ready to assist.
- Strong name recognition and loyalty: we believe the Twin Bays Hops Farms has the potential for strong brand recognition in the craft brewing community. From its inception, our team has made it our priority to educate brewers on the utilization of fresh hops. Thus, creating a team atmosphere within our consumer base that’s interested in the utilization, branding and usage of our amazing product.
- Growing independent distribution network: as we enter into FY 3 & 4 it’s our direct intention to scale our grow operation to be able to provide hops to our eventual goal of the southeastern US.
- Recurring revenue stream from contracts: we gain recurring revenue by way of (1) & (2) year contracts from independent breweries. This not only allows us to have extreme accuracy with revenue forecast models, but the ability to plan growth, expansion and forward momentum moving forward.

Our Strategies

- Create a dedicated operation: we determined that we could more fully capture the potential of our business and the benefits of a growing market by creating the first alternative in Florida Hydroponic hop farming. Combining our growing expertise with the business acumen of the executive team we will be able to explode into an already dynamic and diverse craft scene. All while remaining the only provider of Fresh Florida Hydroponic hops on the market.
- Succeed in a crowded market: in a competitive market, we will be the only provider of Fresh Florida Hydroponically grown hops in the State of Florida and surrounding states. This enables us to have an extreme first to market advantage over any second comers. By establishing the growth rate of the craft scene, we can forecast future hop needs in our immediate operations area.
- Secure distribution for our product: we have established and are continuing to build a network of home brew shops to sell our product to the local home brewing community. With regard to normal distribution channels, hops are not currently regulated by the FDA, so all channels of wholesale remain open without inspection.

- Growth: we believe that our business has significant opportunity to grow organically by expanding our farms based on the growing demand for fresh locally sourced product. As big box retailers begin changing their individual brand initiatives, there is more of an emphasis on stocking brands that boast the “Fresh from Florida Seal.” As more and more retailers fall suit to this new operational guideline the demand for our product will skyrocket. All predicated on the fact that for large craft brands to remain competitive in distribution channels they always have to adapt to big box needs.

	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$1,000,450

The Company was formed on January 18th, 2018 in the State of Florida and commenced operations on January 18, 2018. Accordingly, the Company has only a limited history upon which an evaluation of its prospects and future performance can be made. Furthermore, some Directors, Officers and Key Employees have little to no operating experience or history. Past performance of any Director, Officer or Key Employee or the success of the President in any similar venture is no assurance of future success.

The Company's proposed operations are subject to all business risks associated with new enterprises. The likelihood of the Company's success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications, and delays frequently encountered in connection with the expansion of a business, operation in a competitive industry, and the continued development of advertising, promotions and a corresponding customer base. There is a possibility that the Company could sustain losses in the future or fail to even operate profitably.

Limited Operating History and Capital

The Company has a limited operating history upon which investors may base an evaluation of its performance; therefore, the Company is still subject to all of the risks incident to the creation and development of a new business. The Company plans to conduct closings of sales of its Securities as Subscriptions are received. If less than $25,000 is received from the sale of its Securities, the Company may have insufficient cash to implement its business plans and investors who purchase the Securities shall be at heightened risk of loss of their investments.

General Economic Conditions

The financial success of the Company may be sensitive to adverse changes in general economic conditions in the United States, such as recession, inflation, unemployment, and interest rates, and overseas, such as currency fluctuations. Such changing conditions could reduce demand in the marketplace for the Company's products. Management believes that the impending growth of the market, mainstream market acceptance and the targeted product line of the Company will insulate the Company from excessive reduced demand. Nevertheless, the Company has no control over these changes.

Adverse changes in global and domestic economic conditions or a worsening of the United States economy could materially adversely affect us. Our sales and performance depend significantly on consumer confidence and discretionary spending, which are still under pressure from United States and global economic conditions. A worsening of the economy and decrease in consumer spending, especially discretionary spending for nonessential products and services, may adversely impact our sales, ability to market our services and products, build customer loyalty, or otherwise implement our business strategy and further diversify the geographical concentration of our operations.

The Company has not generated significant revenues or operations that provides financial stability in the long term and without significant revenues the Company will not realize its plans on the projected timetable in order to reach sustainable or profitable operations. Any material deviation from the Company's timetable could require that the Company seek additional capital. Additional capital may not be available at reasonable cost or that it would not materially dilute the investment of investors in this Offering if additional capital is obtained.

Growth and Profitability Dependency

Our growth and profitability are dependent on a number of factors and our historical growth may not be indicative of our future growth.

Our results since the implementation of our new strategy should not be considered as indicative of our future performance. We may not be successful in executing our growth strategy, and even if we achieve our strategic plan, we may not be able to sustain profitability. In future periods, our revenue could continue to decline or grow more slowly than we expect. We also may incur significant losses in the future for a number of reasons, including the following risks and the other risks described in this Memorandum, and we may encounter unforeseen expenses, difficulties, complications, delays and other unknown factors.

Dependence on Key Personnel and Management

In the early stages of development, the Company's business will be significantly dependent on the Company's management team. The Company's success will be particularly dependent upon its Managing Member as well as key employees. The loss of any one of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Company. Although the Company does not currently maintain a key-man life insurance policy insuring the life of its key executives, the Company intends to apply for such a life insurance policy upon completion of funding.

Our business depends on attracting and retaining qualified management personnel

The unanticipated departure of any key member of our management team could have an adverse effect on our business. Given our relative size and the breadth of our operations, there are a limited number of qualified management personnel to assume the responsibilities of management level employees should there be management turnover. Our success depends to a significant extent upon a number of key employees, including members of senior management. The loss of the services of one or more of these key employees could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and prospects. In addition, because of the specialized and technical nature of our business, our future performance depends on the continued service of, and our ability to attract and retain qualified management, and commercial and technical personnel. Competition for such personnel is intense, and we may be unable to continue to attract or retain such personnel to support our growth and operational initiatives and replace executives who retire or resign. Failure to retain our leadership team and attract and retain other important management and technical personnel could place a constraint on our growth and operational initiatives, which could have a material adverse effect on our revenues, results of operations and product development efforts and eventually result in a decrease in profitability.

Inadequacy of Funds

Gross offering proceeds of $2,000,000 may be realized. Management believes that such proceeds will capitalize and sustain the Company sufficiently to allow for the implementation of the Company's business plans. If only a fraction of this Offering is sold, or if certain assumptions contained in management's business plans prove to be incorrect, the Company may have inadequate funds to fully develop its business and may need additional financing or other capital investment to fully implement the Company's business plans.

Risks Associated with Expansion

The Company plans on expanding its business through the introduction of a sophisticated marketing campaign. Any expansion of operations the Company may undertake will entail risks. Such actions may involve specific operational activities, which may negatively impact the profitability of the Company. Consequently, Members must assume the risk that (i) such expansion may ultimately involve expenditures of funds beyond the resources available to the Company at that time, and (ii) management of such expanded operations may divert management's attention and resources away from its existing operations, all of which factors may have a material adverse effect on the Company's present and prospective business activities.

Customer Base and Market Acceptance

While the Company believes it can further develop the existing customer base, the inability of the Company to further develop such a customer base could have a material adverse effect on the Company. Although the Company believes that its products offer advantages over competitive companies and products, the Company's products may not attain a degree of market acceptance on a sustained basis or generate revenues sufficient for sustained profitable operations.

OFFERING STATEMENT

1,000 Units of Interest Membership at $10.00 per Unit
	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$1,000,450

Changes in Consumer Behavior Could Reduce Profitability

The Company’s customers could change their behavior and purchase patterns in unpredictable ways. The Company's success therefore depends on its ability to successfully predict and adapt to changing consumer behavior. Moreover, the Company must often invest substantial amounts in product research and development before the Company learns the extent to which products will earn consumer acceptance. If the Company’s products and services do not achieve sufficient consumer acceptance, the Company's revenue may decline and adversely affect the profitability of the business.

Competition

Competition for the Company and its products primarily comes from a single production company, YCH HOPS, located in, “Washington State”, that currently provides most of the US hop export. Although a number of similar products of lesser quality do exist, none have made significant market penetration or brand recognition. Having identified YCH HOPS as competition, they do not have the ability, infrastructure or need to compete with a Florida hop production.

In addition, although YCH HOPS is financially stable with revenue and profit growth, it has not captured the Florida hop markets need for “LOCAL”. Other competitors such as Burt’s Farms do not effectively focus on this production distribution with regard to relatable products. Consequently, they do not have the consistent staying power to capitalize on a significant portion of the overall market.

While there does exist some current competition, Management believes that the Company’s products are extremely well positioned, top quality and local in nature while offering greater value. The expertise of Management combined with the innovative nature of its marketing approach, set the Company apart from its competitors. However, there is the possibility that new competitors could seize upon the Company’s business model and produce competing products or services with similar focus. However, this possibility is highly unlikely for a few reasons, one of the biggest being the research required to successfully produce a state of the art hydroponic hop farm has to be earned in time. There are no active publications or guidance systems in place to even encourage the vertical growth of a competitor for a few years. By the time anyone would have the ability to execute, we should be well beyond their touch from a capitol standpoint.

We believe that we have a number of competitive advantages in the markets we serve, including the following:

1. Market. Currently our market has no hydroponic hop competitors. The nearest would be in Colorado and their ability to produce the volume needed to compete is not present at this time.
2. Hop products designed specifically for the market. Florida beers thrive on notes of citrus. By sticking to varieties that have the characteristics most sought after by Florida breweries we’ll maintain consistent market share.
3. Focused management team. We have an experienced management team, dedicated solely to our operation, to implement our strategy. Each member of the executive team has been involved with the Company since inception and has been instrumental in developing our strategy.

Trends in Consumer Preferences and Spending

The Company’s operating results may fluctuate significantly from period to period as a result of a variety of factors, including purchasing patterns of customers, competitive pricing, debt service and principal reduction payments and general economic conditions. The Company may not be successful in marketing some of its products or the revenues from the sale of such products will be insignificant. Consequently, the Company’s revenues may vary by quarter and the Company’s operating results may experience fluctuations that will impede appreciation and slow the Company’s growth.

OFFERING STATEMENT

1,000 Units of Interest Membership at $10.00 per Unit
	# Of Units	Total Proceeds	Net Proceeds
Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$1,000,450

Potential Fluctuations in Quarterly Revenue

Significant annual and quarterly fluctuations in the Company’s revenue may be caused by, among other factors, the volume of revenues generated by the Company, the timing of new product or service announcements and releases by the Company and its competitors in the marketplace, and general economic conditions. The Company’s level of revenues and profits, in any particular fiscal period, may be significantly higher or lower than in other fiscal periods, including comparable fiscal periods. The Company’s expense levels are based, in part, on its expectations as to future revenues.

As a result, if future revenues are below expectations, net income or loss may be disproportionately affected by a reduction in revenues, as any corresponding reduction in expenses may not be proportionate to the reduction in revenues. As a result, the Company believes that period-to-period comparisons of its results of operations may not necessarily be meaningful and should not be relied upon as indications of future performance.

Risks of Borrowing

If the Company incurs indebtedness, a portion of its cash flow will have to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on such indebtedness. Typical loan agreements also might contain restrictive covenants, which may impair the Company’s operating flexibility. Such loan agreements would also provide for default under certain circumstances, such as failure to meet certain financial covenants. A default under a loan agreement could result in the loan becoming immediately due and payable and, if unpaid, a judgment in favor of such lender which would be senior to the rights of Members of the Company. A judgment creditor would have the right to foreclose on any of the Company’s assets resulting in a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, operating results or financial condition.

Unanticipated Obstacles to Execution of the Business Plan

The Company’s business plans may change significantly. Many of the Company’s potential business endeavors are capital intensive and may be subject to statutory or regulatory requirements. Management believes that the Company’s chosen activities and strategies are achievable in light of current economic and legal conditions with the skills, background, and knowledge of the Company’s principals and advisors. Management reserves the right to make significant modifications to the Company’s stated strategies depending on future events.

Management Discretion as to Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds from this Offering will be used for the purposes described under Item 4 “Use of Proceeds.” The Company reserves the right to use the funds obtained from this Offering for other similar purposes not presently contemplated which it deems to be in the best interests of the Company and its Members in order to address changed circumstances or opportunities. As a result of the foregoing, the success of the Company will be substantially dependent upon the discretion and judgment of Management with respect to application and allocation of the net proceeds of this Offering. Investors for the Securities offered hereby will be entrusting their funds to the Company’s Management, upon whose judgment and discretion the investors must depend.

Lack of Management Control by Investors

As of 5/21/2018 the Company’s principal Members owned 100% of the Company’s outstanding Securities. Upon completion of this Offering, the Company’s principal Members will own approximately 80% of then issued and outstanding Securities and will be able to continue to control the Company. Investors will become Members of the Company but cannot take part in the management or control of the Company. The Company, Managing Member and Officers have wide latitude in making investment decisions. The Investors do not have such rights. However, Investors will have the ability to control the Company’s Board of Directors by a Member vote.

The Company intends to retain any initial future earnings to fund operations and expand the Company’s business. A Member will be entitled to receive profits proportionate to the amount of Units of Membership Interest held by that Member. The Company’s Board of Directors will determine a profit distribution plan based upon the Company’s results of operations, financial condition, capital requirements and other circumstances.

No Assurances of Protection for Proprietary Rights; Reliance on Trade Secrets

In certain cases, the Company may rely on trade secrets to protect intellectual property, proprietary technology and processes, which the Company has acquired, developed or may develop in the future. There is a risk that secrecy obligations may not be honored or that others will not independently develop similar or superior products or technology. The protection of intellectual property and/or proprietary technology through claims of trade secret status has been the subject of increasing claims and litigation by various companies both in order to protect proprietary rights as well as for competitive reasons even where proprietary claims are unsubstantiated. The prosecution of proprietary claims or the defense of such claims is costly and uncertain given the uncertainty and rapid development of the principles of law pertaining to this area. The Company, in common with other firms, may also be subject to claims by other parties with regard to the use of intellectual property, technology information and data, which may be deemed proprietary to others.

Legal and Regulatory Compliance

Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations could harm our business and financial results. The Company intends to develop and implement policies and procedures designed to comply with all applicable federal and state laws, accounting and reporting requirements, tax rules and other regulations and requirements, including but not limited to those imposed by the SEC.

In addition to potential damage to our reputation and brand, failure to comply with the various laws and regulations, as well as changes in laws and regulations or the manner in which they are interpreted or applied, may result in civil and criminal liability, damages, fines and penalties, increased cost of regulatory compliance and restatements of our financial statements. Future laws or regulations, or the cost of complying with such laws, regulations or requirements, could also adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Compliance with environmental regulations could be costly and require us to make significant expenditures

We generate hazardous and nonhazardous wastes in the normal course of our manufacturing operations. As a result, we are subject to a wide range of environmental laws and regulations. These laws and regulations govern actions that may have adverse environmental effects and require compliance with certain practices when handling and disposing of hazardous and nonhazardous wastes. Some environmental laws impose strict, retroactive and joint and several liabilities for the remediation of the release of hazardous substances, which could subject us to liability without regard to whether we were negligent or at fault. Failure to comply with environmental laws could expose us to substantial fines or penalties and to civil and criminal liability. These liabilities, sanctions, damages and remediation efforts related to any non-compliance with such laws and regulations could have a material adverse effect on our business or results of operations.

Projections: Forward Looking Information

Management has prepared projections regarding the Company’s anticipated financial performance. The Company’s projections are hypothetical and based upon a presumed financial performance of the Company, the addition of a sophisticated and well-funded marketing plan and other factors influencing the business of the Company. The projections are based on Management’s best estimate of the probable results of operations of the Company, based on present circumstances, and have not been reviewed by the Company’s independent accountants or auditors. These projections are based on several assumptions, set forth therein, which Management believes are reasonable. Some assumptions, upon which the projections are based, however, invariably will not materialize due the inevitable occurrence of unanticipated events and circumstances beyond Management’s control. Therefore, actual results of operations will vary from the projections, and such variances may be material. Assumptions regarding future changes in sales and revenues are necessarily speculative in nature. In addition, projections do not and cannot take into account such factors as general economic conditions, unforeseen regulatory changes, the entry into the Company’s market of additional competitors, the terms and conditions of future capitalization, and other risks inherent to the Company’s business. While Management believes that the projections accurately reflect possible future results of the Company’s operations, those results cannot be guaranteed.

Risks Related to The Offering

Limited Transferability and Liquidity

To satisfy the requirements of certain exemptions from registration under the Securities Act, and to conform with applicable state securities laws, each Investor must acquire his/her/its Securities for investment purposes only and not with a view towards distribution. Consequently, certain conditions of the Securities Act may need to be satisfied prior to any sale, transfer, or other disposition of the Securities. Some of these conditions may include a minimum holding period, availability of certain reports, including financial statements from the Company, limitations on the percentage of Securities sold and the manner in which they are sold. The Company can prohibit any sale, transfer or disposition unless it receives an opinion of counsel provided at the holder’s expense, in a form satisfactory to the Company, stating that the proposed sale, transfer or other disposition will not result in a violation of applicable federal or state securities laws and regulations. No public market exists for the securities and no market is expected to develop. Consequently, owners of the Securities may have to hold their investment indefinitely and may not be able to liquidate their investments in the Company or pledge them as collateral for a loan in the event of an emergency.

Broker - Dealer Sales of Securities

The Company’s Securities are not presently included for trading on any exchange, and there can be no assurances that the Company will ultimately be registered on any exchange. The NASDAQ Stock Market, Inc. has recently enacted certain changes to the entry and maintenance criteria for listing eligibility on the NASDAQ Small Cap Market. The entry standards require at least $4 million in net tangible assets or $750,000 net income in two of the last three years. The proposed entry standards would also require a public float of at least $1 million Units of Membership Interest, $5 million value of public float, a minimum bid price of $5.00 per Membership Unit, at least three market makers, and at least 300 Members. The maintenance standards (as opposed to entry standards) require at least $2 million in net tangible assets or $500,000 in net income in two of the last three years, a public float of at least 500,000 Units of Membership Interest, a $1 million market value of public float, a minimum bid price of $1.00 per Membership Unit, at least two market makers, and at least 300 Members.

The Company may never qualify for inclusion on the NASDAQ System or any other trading market until such time as the principal holders of Securities deem it necessary. As a result, the Company’s Securities are covered by a Securities and Exchange Commission rule that opposes additional sales practice requirements on broker-dealers who sell such securities to persons other than established customers and accredited investors. For transactions covered by the rule, the broker-dealer must make a special suitability determination for the purchaser and receive the purchaser’s written agreement to the transaction prior to the sale. Consequently, the rule may affect the ability of broker-dealers to sell the Company’s Securities and will also affect the ability of holders of the Securities to sell their Securities in the secondary market.

Long Term Nature of the Investment

An investment in the Securities may be long term and illiquid. As discussed herein, the offer and sale of the Securities will not be registered under the Securities Act or any foreign or state securities laws by reason of exemptions from such registration, which depends in part on the investment intent of the investors. Prospective investors will be required to represent in writing that they are purchasing the Securities for their own account for long-term investment and not with a view towards resale or distribution. Accordingly, purchasers of our Securities must be willing and able to bear the economic risk of their investment for an indefinite period of time. It is likely that investors will not be able to liquidate their investment in the event of an emergency.

Compliance with Securities Laws

The Securities are being offered for sale in reliance upon certain exemptions from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, applicable Florida State Securities Laws, and other applicable securities laws. If the sale of Securities were to fail to qualify for these exemptions, purchasers may seek rescission of their purchases of Securities. If a number of purchasers were to obtain rescission, the Company would face significant financial demands, which could adversely affect the Company as a whole, as well as any non-rescinding purchasers.

Determination of the Offering Price

The offering price of the Securities has been arbitrarily established by the Company, considering such matters as the state of the Company's business development, the general condition of the industry in which the Company operates, the amount of funds sought from this Offering and the number of Units the Board of Directors is willing to issue in order to raise such funds. Accordingly, there is no relationship between the price of the Offering and the assets, earnings or book value of the Company, the market value of the Company's Securities or any other recognized criteria of value. As such, the price does not necessarily indicate the current value of the Company's Securities and should not be regarded as an indication of any future market price of the Company's Securities.

Lack of Firm Underwriter

The Securities are offered on a "best efforts" basis by the Company without compensation. The Company may, in the future, engage the services of certain FINRA registered broker-dealers to market the Securities on a "best efforts" basis which enter into Participating Broker-Dealer Agreements with the Company; however, the Company has not entered into any agreement with any FINRA registered broker-dealer. Accordingly, there is no assurance that the Company, or any FINRA broker-dealer, will sell the maximum securities offered or any lesser amount.

Because there is no public trading market for our Securities, you may not be able to resell your Units

If our Units of Membership Interest become listed and a market for the Units of Membership Interest develops, the actual price of our Units of Membership Interest will be determined by prevailing market prices at the time of the sale.

A market for our Securities may not develop. Even if a market for our Units develops, the trading of securities on the OTC Markets or like service is often sporadic and investors may have difficulty buying and selling our Units or obtaining market quotations for them, which may have a negative effect on the market price of our Units. You may not be able to sell your Units at their purchase price or at any price at all. Accordingly, you may have difficulty reselling any Units you purchase from the selling security holders.

Investing in our company is highly speculative: you could lose your entire investment

Purchasing the offered Securities is highly speculative and involves significant risk. The offered Securities should not be purchased by any person who cannot afford to lose their entire investment. Our business objectives are also speculative, and it is possible that we would be unable to accomplish them. Our Members may be unable to realize a substantial or any return on their purchase of the offered Securities and may lose their entire investment. For this reason, each prospective purchaser of the offered Securities should read this Memorandum and all of its exhibits carefully and consult with their attorney, business and/or investment advisor.

Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$1,000,450

Investing in our Company may result in an immediate loss because buyers will pay more for our Securities than what the pro rata portion of the assets are worth

We have only been recently formed and have only a limited operating history with limited earnings; therefore, the price of the offered Securities is not based on any data. The Offering price and other terms and conditions regarding our Securities have been arbitrarily determined and do not bear any relationship to assets, earnings, book value or any other objective criteria of value. No investment banker, appraiser or other independent third party has been consulted concerning the Offering price for the Securities or the fairness of the Offering price used for the Securities.

The arbitrary Offering price of 100 per Unit as determined herein is substantially higher than the net tangible book value per Unit. Our assets do not substantiate a Unit price of $100 per Unit. This premium in Unit price applies to the terms of this Offering. The Offering price will not change for the duration of the Offering even if we obtain a listing on any exchange or become quoted on the OTC Markets.

We do not anticipate paying dividends in the foreseeable future, so there will be less ways in which you can make a gain on any investment in us

We have never paid dividends and do not intend to pay any dividends for the foreseeable future. To the extent that we may require additional funding currently not provided for in our financing plan, our funding sources may prohibit the declaration of dividends. Because we do not intend to pay dividends, any gain on your investment will need to result from an appreciation in the price of our Units. There will therefore be fewer ways in which you are able to make a gain on your investment.

In the event that our Securities are traded, they may trade under $5.00 per Unit, and thus will be considered a penny stock. Trading penny stocks has many restrictions and these restrictions could severely affect the price and liquidity of our Units

We have established a minimum offering of our Securities

Because there is a minimum offering of our Securities, purchasers in this Offering may be one of a few to purchase our Securities and management's plans for the Offering proceeds may not be met in which case the Company may be forced to curtail or cease its activities which would likely result in the loss to investors of all or a substantial portion of their investments.

Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") sales practice requirements may also limit your ability to buy and sell our Securities, which could depress the price of our Units

FINRA rules require broker-dealers to have reasonable grounds for believing that an investment is suitable for a customer before recommending that investment to the customer. Prior to recommending speculative low-priced securities to their non-institutional customers, broker-dealers must make reasonable efforts to obtain information about the customer's financial status, tax status and investment objectives, among other things. Under interpretations of these rules, FINRA believes that there is a high probability such speculative low-priced securities will not be suitable for at least some customers. Thus, FINRA requirements make it more difficult for broker-dealers to recommend that their customers buy our Securities, which may limit your ability to buy and sell our Securities, have an adverse effect on the market for our Securities, and thereby depress our Security's price.

You may face significant restriction on the resale of your Units due to state "Blue Sky" laws

Each state has its own securities laws, often called "blue sky" laws, which (1) limit sales of securities to a state's residents unless the securities are registered in that state or qualify for an exemption from registration, and (2) govern the reporting requirements for broker-dealers doing business directly or indirectly in the state. Before a security is sold in a state, there must be a registration in place to cover the transaction, or it must be exempt from registration. The applicable broker-dealer must also be registered in that state.

We do not know whether our Securities will be registered or exempt from registration under the laws of any state. A determination regarding registration will be made by those broker-dealers, if any, who agree to serve as market makers for our Securities. We have not yet applied to have our Securities registered in any state and will not do so until we receive expressions of interest from investors resident in specific states after they have viewed this Memorandum. We will initially focus our Offering in the State of Florida and will rely on exemptions found under Florida Law. There may be significant state blue-sky law restrictions on the ability of investors to sell, and on purchasers to buy, our Securities. You should therefore consider the resale market for our Securities to be limited, as you may be unable to resell your Securities without the significant expense of state registration or qualification.

Need for Additional Financing

Assuming all Units are sold in this Offering, we believe that the net proceeds from this Offering, together with its projected cash flow from operations, shall be sufficient to fund the operations of the Company as currently conducted for up to 18 months. Such belief, however, cannot give rise to an assumption that the Company's cost estimates are accurate or that unforeseen events would not occur that would require the Company to seek additional funding to meet its operational needs. In addition, the Company may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations to implement the Company's business objectives. As a result, the Company may require substantial additional financing in order to implement its business objectives.

The Company may not be able to obtain additional funding when needed, or that such funding, if available, shall be available on terms acceptable to the Company. In the event that the Company's operations do not generate sufficient cash flow, or the Company cannot acquire additional funds if and when needed, the Company may be forced to curtail or cease its activities which would likely result in the loss to investors of all or a substantial portion of their investments.

Limited Protection of Proprietary Rights; Potential Costs of Enforcement

The ability of the Company to compete effectively with other companies could depend, in part, on its ability to create and/or maintain the proprietary nature of its business method. We intend to apply for all applicable forms of intellectual property protection immediately upon receipt of funding, and the Company's success shall also depend, in part, on its ability to obtain this protection and then enforce the intellectual property protection for these assets in the United States and other countries. The Company, in such circumstances, may file applications for patents, copyrights and trademarks, as management deems appropriate; however, the protections offered by any intellectual property rights issued or licensed by the Company may not be available.

Our competitors, many of whom have substantial resources and substantial investments in competing technologies, may seek to apply for and obtain patents that shall prevent, limit or interfere with the Company's ability to make and sell its products and or services. In addition, the laws of certain countries would not protect the Company's proprietary rights to the same extent as do the laws of the United States. The defense and prosecution of patent suits may be both costly and time consuming even if the outcome is favorable to the Company. An adverse outcome could subject the Company to significant liabilities to third parties, require disputed rights to be licensed from third parties, or require the Company to cease from selling certain of its products.

The Company will also rely on proprietary technology such as customer analytics and business methods such as our sales process and management systems. Other companies may independently develop the same or similar technology, or otherwise obtain access to the Company's proprietary technology. Confidentiality agreements entered into by the Company's employees, agents, advisors, consultants and associates as well, as other staff, may provide meaningful protection for the Company's trade secrets, know-how or other proprietary information in the event of any unauthorized use or disclosure of such trade secrets, know-how or other proprietary information.

Attraction and Retention of Qualified Personnel

OFFERING STATEMENT

Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500
Maximum Amount	10,700	$1,070,000	$1,000,450

The ability of the Company to realize its objectives shall be dependent on its ability to attract and retain additional, qualified personnel. Competition for such personnel can be intense, and the Company's results may adversely affect the Company's ability to attract and/or retain qualified personnel. Furthermore, the Company plans on maintaining key-man life insurance on all senior management and to require all personnel to enter into confidentiality agreements as a condition of employment. The Company's management team has entered into employment agreements that include non-compete and confidentiality requirements. However, such agreements may not fully protect the Company from competitive injury if any of these individuals leave the Company.

We Are an Emerging Growth Company

We are an emerging growth company as defined in the JOBS Act. The reduced disclosure requirements applicable to emerging growth companies may make our Securities less attractive to investors. For as long as we continue to be an emerging growth company, we intend to take advantage of some of the exemptions from the reporting requirements applicable to other public companies. It is possible that investors will find our Securities less attractive as a result of our reliance on these exemptions. If so, there may be a less active trading market for our Securities and our Units price may be more volatile.

Risks Associated with Financial Projections

Our financial projections are based upon assumptions that the Company believes to be reasonable. Such assumptions may, however, be incomplete or inaccurate, and unanticipated events and circumstances may occur. For these reasons, actual results achieved during the periods covered may be materially and adversely different.

Even if the assumptions underlying our plans prove to be correct, the Company may incur substantial operating losses in attaining its goals. The Company's plans are based on the premise that the existing consumer demand for the Company's products and services shall continue. However, if any of the assumptions underlying its plans prove to be incorrect the Company will not realize its business objectives.

Investors should be aware that no independent market studies have been conducted by the Company regarding its business plan, nor are any such studies currently planned.

Our Managing Member Has Control over Key Decision Making

Our founder and Managing Member, GCB, Inc maintains majority voting rights over the company. As a result, GCB, Inc has the ability to control the outcome of matters submitted to our Members for approval, including the election of directors and any merger, consolidation, or sale of all or substantially all of our assets. In addition, our Managing Member has the ability to control the management and affairs of our Company as a result of his/her position as our Managing Member and his/her ability to control the election of our directors. Additionally, in the event that the Managing Member controls our Company at the time of his/her death, control may be transferred to a person or entity that he designates as his successor.

As a board member and officer, our Managing Member owes a fiduciary duty to our Members and must act in good faith in a manner he/she reasonably believes to be in the best interests of our Members. As a Member, even a controlling Member, our Managing Member is entitled to vote his/her Securities in his/her own interests, which may not always be in the interests of our Members generally.

Minimum Offering

The Company has established a minimum offering of 250 Units that must be sold by the Company in order to move forward with our business plan. The Company may not raise sufficient funds in this Offering to carry out its business plan as proposed, or that the net proceeds from the initial subscriptions for the Securities shall be in an amount sufficient to enable the Company to continue operations in any meaningful manner.

Best Efforts Offering

The Securities are being offered by the Company on a "best efforts" basis. No individual, firm or company has agreed in advance to purchase any of the offered Securities. All of the Securities may not be sold and the Company may have to cease operations putting investor's capital at risk.

Dividends

The Company has never declared or paid cash dividends on its Securities and does not plan to pay any cash dividends with respect to its Securities in the foreseeable future. The Company currently intends to retain future earnings, if any, to finance the expansion of the Company's operations. As a result, the Company does not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

The Company's Board of Directors shall determine dividend policy in the future based upon, but not limited to the Company's results of operations, financial condition, contractual restrictions and other factors deemed relevant at the time. The Company intends to retain appropriate levels of its earnings, if any, to support the Company's business activities.

THE BOTTOM LINE: If we do well, the stock should do well also, yet life offers no guarantees, and neither can we.

If we make mistakes or have unforeseen things happen to us, our suppliers or the world, we can make little or no profit and can be driven out of business.

Please only invest what you can afford to lose.

As of the date of this Offering Statement, there were 60,000 Units of Membership Interest issued (or reserved) and outstanding. The Units of Membership Interest issued and outstanding are held by four Members.

The following description of our Securities is subject to and qualified in its entirety by our Articles of Formation and Operating Agreement and by the provisions of applicable Florida Law. Copies of these documents are filed as exhibits to this Memorandum. The descriptions of our Securities reflect changes to our capital structure that will occur in connection with the completion of this Offering.

Our Articles of Formation authorize our Board of Directors, without action by the Members, to designate and issue up to 100,000 Units of Membership Interest, Par Value $0.0182 per Unit, in one or more series. Our Board of Directors is authorized to designate the rights, preferences and privileges of the Units of Membership Interest of each series and any of its qualifications, limitations or restrictions. Our Board of Directors is able to authorize the issuance of Units of Membership Interest with voting or conversion rights that could adversely affect the voting power or other rights of the other holders of our Units of Membership Interest. The following is a summary of the material provisions governing the issuance of the Company's Units in this Offering:

1. The Company is offering a maximum of ten thousand seven hundred (10,700) Units of Membership Interest, at an offering price of $100 per Unit through this offering statement. The Company has established a minimum of two (2) Units for this Offering.

We currently intend to retain all available funds and any future earnings to support our operations and finance the growth and development of our business and do not intend to declare or pay any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. As a result, you will likely need to sell your Securities to realize a return on your investment, and you may not be able to sell your Units of Membership Interest at or above the price you paid for them. Payment of cash dividends, if any, in the future will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on then-existing conditions, including our financial condition, operating results, contractual restrictions, capital requirements, business prospects and other factors our Board may deem relevant.

Dividend Rights

Members are only entitled to distributions or dividends proportionate to their Units of Membership Interest when and if declared by the Company's Board of Directors out of funds legally available. The Company to date has not given any such distributions or dividends. Future distribution policies are subject to the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Company and will depend upon a number of factors, including among other things, the capital requirements and the financial condition of the Company.

Liquidation Rights

The valuation of the company has been performed based on the issuers' qualitative and financial information, including but not limited to: 1. the quality, size and experience of the management team; 2.- the market of reference and business model; 3. the product/service and customers' feedback; 4. - the presence of strategic partnerships as well as external investors; 5. - the presence of relevant IP and/or legal risks; 6. - the current financial performance of the company; 7. - the projected financial performance of the company.

This information is combined with market-industry data, provided by a comprehensive valuation software, to come up with a comprehensive valuation estimate based on 5 different valuation models, 2 based on a qualitative assessment (named Scorecard and Check-List) and 3 based financial projections (namely: VC method, Discounted Cash Flows with Multiples, and Discounted Cash Flows with Long-Term Growth).

VALUATION

The 5 Methods Used

Target Offering	100	$10,000	$6,500

These methods are combined in a weighted average that applies the weights (see above image) according to the stage of development of the company (assessed by the valuation software), giving more emphasis on the 2 qualitative methods for early-stage businesses, and vice versa.

VALUATION

The weights for the above-mentioned valuation methods are: Scorecard (25%), Check-list (25%), Venture Capital (17%), DCF- Long Term Growth (17%), and DCF with Multiples (16%).

The valuation was calculated at pre-money $6,500,000.

22. What are the risks to purchasers of the securities relating to minority ownership in the issuer?

The right to demand current distributions from an operating business is limited. A majority owner, if she is committed to avoiding any distributions to a minority owner, can usually avoid making any distributions of profits. By establishing generous reserves for future expenses, paying a salary to herself or her relatives at the high range of what is reasonable, pre-paying expenses, investing in new business or new equipment, leasing expensive cars, etc., a majority owner can spend enough that there are rarely any profits to be distributed. So long as the expenses are not grossly unreasonable, the investor, probably, won't be able to force the company to allow you to share in any of the current income of the company.

No right to participate in any management decisions of the company. The majority owner may make a decision that the investor think is bad and puts your interest in the company at risk. The investor may see the majority owner running the company into the ground. The investor can try to convince him that it is the wrong decision, but he doesn't have to take your calls.

The investor has limited rights, if any, to have your interest bought out. You may want to cash out your interest and do other things with the money. State law may give you the right to force the company to buy you out, but these rights are limited.

While the investor would be entitled to a share of any profits on sale of the entire business, a sale can be structured in a way to avoid any payout to minority owners, such as a sale of assets over time with the proceeds reinvested in another business.

23. What are the risks to purchasers associated with corporate actions including:

Additional issuances of securities:

Following the investor's investment in the Company, the Company may sell interest to additional investors, which will dilute the percentage interest of the investor in the Company. The Investor might have the opportunity to increase its investment in the Company in such transaction, but such opportunity cannot be assured. The amount of additional capital needed by the Company, if any, will depend upon the maturity and the objectives of the Company.

Issuer repurchases of securities:

The company may have the authority to repurchase its securities from shareholders, which may serve to decrease any liquidity in the market for such securities, decrease the percentage interests held by other similarly situated investors to the Investor, and create pressure on the investor to sell its securities to the Company concurrently.

A sale of the issuer or of assets of the issuer:

As a minority owner of the Company, the Investor will have limited or no ability to influence a potential sale of the Company or a substantial portion of its assets. Thus, the investor will rely upon the executive management of the Company and the Board of Directors of the Company to manage the Company so as to maximize value for shareholders.

Transactions with related parties:

The Investor should be aware that there will be occasions when the Company may encounter potential conflicts of interest in its operations. On any issue involving conflicts of interest, the executive management and the Board of Directors of the Company will be guided by their good faith judgement as to the Company's best interests. The Company may engage in transactions with affiliates, subsidiaries or other related parties, which may be on terms which are not arm's-length, but will be in all cases consistent with the duties of the management of the Company to its shareholders. By acquiring an interest in the company, the investor will be deemed to have acknowledged the existence of any such actual or potential conflicts of interest and to have waived any claim with respect to any liability arising from the existence of any such conflict of interest.

24. Describe the material terms of any indebtedness of the issuer:

Creditor(s)	Amount Outstanding	Interest Rate	Maturity Date	Other Material Terms
Amy Belanger	$500,000	10% per annum	January 1, 2020	No payments of principal or interest shall be due for the first twelve (12) months from the Effective Date of this Note (June 21, 2018). On July 1, 2019, the interest for each of the first twelve (12) months shall be due and payable in full. No additional payments of principal or interest shall be due until the Maturity Date (January 1, 2020).
